AMERICAN BULLMASTIFF ASSOCIATION
1992 FAR WEST SPECIALTY

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1992
Cypress College, Cypress, CA

This Specialty was the first Bullmastiff INDEPENDENT area Specialty held in the west. There have been four independent National Specialties held here prior to this. Having been show chairman for two of these I did not see any problem arising in doing an independent area specialty except for the possibility of an entry small enough to cause a deficit after all accounting was done. Silly me! The show itself was just fine. Dealing with some of the suppliers was the ULTIMATE lesson in Murphy's Law. Three days before the show we discovered the ring canopy we were going to use had been severely damaged to use so last minute arrangements were made with a rental company. The superintendent's order for show ribbons got lost in the system. The ribbons (which were perfect) had to be made in 6 hours on the day before the show. The rental company that promised me they would absolutely have the tables and chairs at the show site by 6:45 AM managed to show up at 8:25, just 5 minutes before the show started. The trophies, boutique, and other sales had to wait until the last second to be set up.

Then we had the weather. While parts of the country were freezing under nearly winter conditions, we had the usual occurrence for a Santa Ana Valley KC weekend. The temperature hit 90 degrees. Luckily we had some trees and canopies on site.

From that point on, everything went like clockwork. Most exhibitors didn't even know there had been any problems, with the exception of those who were foolish enough to ask me how things were going.

The ring was set up on a large grassy area behind the college gymnasium. Coffee and doughnuts were offered free of charge to all exhibitors. Lunch, consisting of a variety of sandwiches and salads, was catered, sodas were on sale all day. A raffle was held during the lunch hour.

Chief ring steward Laura Worsham and assistant ring steward Kathi Isenberg kept traffic moving in and out of the ring with exceptional smoothness. Dick Vail handled the public address system with his usual fine efficiency. Sally Ann Catering supplied our lunch. Scott Peterson was in charge of Grounds, Denyse Raskin was Catalog Advertising chairman, Brenda Gere and Linda Long were Boutique managers. Clint Carlisle was our official Show Photographer. Thanks also go to all the fanciers whose generosity and hard work made this show a success.

The delightful frosting on the cake for the entire weekend was the lovely Buffet hosted by Patricia O'Brien at her home. Tom O'Brien, Jr., a talented professional chef, served up an assortment of delicious foods. The gathering allows everyone to relax and visit away from the hectic pace of the showground.

I would like to thank the exhibitors for the consideration they showed by keeping the show site and the hotel area clean. I actually received an unsolicited letter of commendation from the hotel management on how clean and considerate the Bullmastiff people were, and an invitation to return any time. Thank you, thank you, thank you. There are fewer and fewer places taking dogs nowadays because of lack of consideration by the owners. Our group left a very favorable impression.

CH. ALLSTAR'S TERRY THOMAS x CH. ALLSTAR'S MAE WEST

Tailwynde's Hotel Sierra (at 9 months)

HOT SHOT is a homebred inbred puppy built to specs. At 11 months he bred and tied his first bitch in less than a minute, just like an ol' pro. "HOTEL SIERRA" is pilot lingo for "Hot Sh-t", and that's what he is!

HOT SHOT is a half brother to his father, BART SIMPSON, and his dam, JUST DESSERTS, is his grandmother; how very Appalachian.

TAILWYNDE'S HEEBIE JEEBIE and TAILWYNDE'S CHURCH LADY at 9 months old. Homebred inbred sisters to HOT SHOT, JEEBIE and the C. LADY, and their litter sister PUDDY TAT are exactly what I want. Eventually one will be further inbred, one will be linebred, and one will be outcrossed. Then we will see where the bear is in the buckwheat.

TAILWYNDE'S NINE ONE ONE has been bred to TAILWYNDE'S LA TE DA and TAILWYNDE'S BART SIMPSON has been bred to TAILWYNDE'S EN VOGUE for litters due on the same days the end of June. The sleepless nights out to be worth it as all dogs involved have the earmarks of what I've worked over 25 years to attain.

Tightly linebred on both Ch. Bandog's Crowdaddy Gumbo and Ch. Brookhaven's Huggy Bear, CD, MAX is our third generation. We expect to see our fourth before the end of 1992.

Like our first, second and third generations the fourth will produce Bullmastiffs that combine compactness with reach and drive; bone and muscle with beauty and elegance; confidence and courage with dependability; large strong heads with alert, intelligent expressions. In other words, Bullmastiffs willing and capable of doing a night's work.

Ch. HappyLegs Luke of Hartford

CH. BANSTOCK LEVI OF HAPPYLEGS x CH. HAPPYLEGS JEEP'S CHEROKEE

LUKE finished his championship in four straight shows, which included going Best of Breed from the Puppy Class (breeder-handled) over a multiple BIS Winner. His first weekend as a Special, LUKE took Best of Breed all three days in Delaware, Ohio, then took a Group 4 under Joe Mellor, at just 13 months of age. Two weeks later, he won two more Best of Breeds, again beating the BIS Winner.

LUKE is the closest we've come to our ideal Bullmastiff. He combines the body and superior movement of his double great-grandfather, CH. JUBILEE ARROW OF GOLD with the handsome headpiece of his great-grandfather CH. BANDOG'S JOHNNY BULL. At 14 months, LUKE stands just under 26" and 125 pounds; at maturity he should be "just right". We co-own this very special dog with Larry Smith and Leslie Lafer of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. He is shown above with our friend and handler, Norma Gibson.

TAURALAN TROTTIE TRUE

CH. TAURALAN THOMAS MAGNUM x CH. TAURALAN VELVET TOUCH

TROTTIE took Winners Bitch for a 5 point major at the 1992 Far West Specialty under David Lee on April 25th. She was very capably handled by Dione Shastid. TROTTIE was much too warm to get a good show picture so Clint Carlisle was kind enough to reshoot her photo at home. TROTTIE will be handled in future by Dione and her mother Taun Brooks. TROTTIE has all the substance and type to be expected of a MAGNUM x VELVET daughter. You can see another MAGNUM offspring, exhibiting the same substance and type on the following page.

Congratulations to WILD HEARTS STAR OF TAURALAN owned by Taun Brooks for picking up a hard earned 5 point major the day after the Specialty at Santa Ana Valley KC under judge Howard Dullnig. This massive red bitch had a litter only six weeks before the show. She is a daughter of CH. TAURALAN MIDAS TOUCH and CH. TAURALAN TEE SOO.

TAURALAN

The puppy on the left is sired by CH. TAURALAN THOMAS MAGNUM out of TAURALAN TRACY DE LACY (3 majors & 13 points). He is one of 3 brindle boys. The puppy on the right is sired by 1992 Far West Specialty BOB CH. SAINTE MAXIME OF TANTALON out of CH. TAURALAN VELVET TOUCH. This puppy is a half-brother to TAURALAN TROTTIE TRUE. He is one of a litter of 3 boys, a red, a fawn, and a brindle.

LACY and VELVET are half sisters, both out of BLACKSLATE TAURALAN TOBIT (daughter of Ch. Tauralan Hold That Tiger). LACY is sired by CH. WILD HEARTS IRON EAGLE. VELVET is sired by IRON EAGLE's sire, Best In Show CH. WILD HEARTS SAMSON.

The MAGNUM x LACY breeding will be repeated.

Congratulations to Anthony and Catherine Vergopia on their MAXIME finishing his championship in just three months by going WD and BW at the 1992 Far West Specialty, handled by Taun Brooks.

CH. SAINTE MAXIME OF TANTALON

BANDOG'S SIDNEY OF TANTALON x CH. BOCHAR'S MAGIC WAND

MAX spent his first three years with us as our loving companion. In just three months starting in January of this year he has stepped into the public spotlight, making many new friends and has gained the title of Champion. MAX's excellent type, substance, and movement contributed to his finishing with 4 majors to his credit; the final one, a 5 point win at this year's Far West Specialty under judge David Lee. MAX has been beautifully presented in the ring by Taun Brooks.

MAX has sired two litters, has another one due in late May, and one more due in June.

Our thanks to MAX's breeders George and Barbara Reudelhuber for producing such a lovely dog.

1992 A.B.A. FAR WEST SPECIALTY JUDGE'S CRITIQUE

by David Lee

I would like to thank the exhibitors for a tremendous entry, and most of all, the excellent presentation of their dogs in the ring. Overall, I was very impressed and certainly overwhelmed with the quality of the Bullmastiffs in the Specials class. It was most rewarding and a challenge for me to sort out these fine dogs.

Judging the American Bullmastiff Association Far West Specialty was a most pleasurable experience. My appreciation to the Specialty Committee for inviting me.

Best of Breed - CH. UPPER CRUST'S WEEKEND WARRIOR

A proportionally balanced dog showing great strength with excellent breed qualities. he moved with ease coming and going and has that all-male elegance look in carriage.

Best of Opposite Sex - CH. HOUSE OF TUDOR FAIR GO NANOOK

An exquisitely elegant bitch with a very pretty head and dark eyes that enhance a most beautiful stunning feminine expression. She has a balanced outline with good angulation both front and rear, and very graceful in her movement.

Best of Winners & Winners Dog - SAINTE MAXIME OF TANTALON

An alert, energetic, well-balanced dog. Going from the side, he maintains balance indicating a strong topline. Despite the hot temperature, this dog performed well each time called upon by his handler. He is a very handsome and showy dog.

Winners Bitch - TAURALAN TROTTIE TRUE

This bitch caught my eyes as she was entering the ring for her class. She has a lovely head, very feminine in appearance, and quality breed type. She is sound with good shoulders and a substantial body. Truly, she is a very lovely bitch.

A WASH FOR SORE EARS

If your dog's ears show inflammation, tenderness or brown discharge, try Dr. J. C. Blumenthal's ear wash. Put 1 1/2 teaspoons boric acid powder and a few drops of dye (Gentian Violet is common) in a 4 ounce bottle. Fill the bottle the rest of the way with isopropyl alcohol.

If the dog's ear is full of hair, pull out as much as possible. Use Panalog^R in the ear twice a day for a couple of days until the ear is no longer angry. Shake the ear wash well and pour a teaspoon or two into the dog's ear. With your hand cupped behind it, massage the ear gently for a minute. Do the other ear before you let the dog shake its head. BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

By CAROL BEANS

People say persistence usually pays off. Well, I would say breeding a bitch for 5 1/2 years every season but one and having her miss every time goes beyond the description of persistence. Stubborn is a word that comes to mind.

Having a bitch as lovely as Zoe was good enough for me, puppies or no. However, I just knew she was fertile and something was going wrong in the progress of the pregnancy. For the first few years she didn't give any indication of pregnancy after breeding. The last two, she would look in whelp for about four weeks, get milk, and then all signs of pregnancy would disappear.

I took her to a reproductive specialist. She had blood tests, took thyroxine, was douched, had vaginal smears taken by me daily for three weeks to track her progress into and through her season, took antibiotics before-during-after breeding. Her heat cycles were ALWAYS normal. Always, the same thing happened. She looked like she was in whelp until four weeks and then, POOF, it was all gone. She was ultra-sounded at three and a half weeks after each of her last four breedings. No puppies could be seen.

You might think by now a reasonable person would give up on this bitch as a motherhood prospect. Not necessarily, because her prospective husband was her housemate, so it was not a difficult problem to breed her, and she was such a good bitch I felt that getting even one puppy from her was important.

In late November of last year, at 6 years and 9 months she came into season again. I took her to Dr. Barbara Reichel for Icagen testing to determine the correct time to breed her. We decided to do a fresh semen DIRECT IMPLANT into the uterus. This was going to be IT. Everything else had been tried and she was at the far end of the age at which I will breed a bitch.

On the proper day Zoe and Chisum visited Dr. Reichel's office. Chisum was collected and he and I went home. Zoe stayed, was put under anesthesia, a small incision was made in her abdomen and uterus. The doctor found she had endometriosis in one horn of the uterus but the other was perfectly normal. She implanted the semen. Four hours later Zoe came bouncing into the hospital reception room, paying absolutely no attention to the fact she'd just had surgery and had a couple of inches of stitches in her tummy. It was as if nothing had happened. Actually nothing bothers this bitch except toenail clipping, at which time she dissolves into a quivering, whimpering bowl of jello.

We suspected from the indications, that Zoe was getting in whelp, dropping her progesterone level below the point at which she could hold a pregnancy. After breeding the progesterone level must stay high or bitches absorb their pups.

Dr. Reichel took blood for a progesterone test at the time of the implant. Then Zoe was tested again a few weeks later. Her progesterone was within the safe range but not great. At 3 1/2 weeks an ultrasound was done to determine pregnancy. At the same time another progesterone test was done. At 2 1/2 weeks her progesterone level had been 17. This time it was 8. The ultra sound discovered one fetus. Immediately, Zoe was put on Provera, a progesterone supplement. Blood tests were done weekly for the next 3 weeks to check her levels. The test shows only the dog's own natural level. It does not read the supplement. If the test level is high the supplement can be stopped. However, in Zoe's case the 8 went to 4. She obviously was going to stay on the supplement. You might be wondering what all this wonderful treatment costs. This is one of those "If you have to ask, you can't afford it." questions. Since I had invested a good deal of effort and money to get Zoe to full term pregnancy (Oh yes, time too -5 1/2 years), and this was her last chance, I decided she would have a caesarian section. All told one can figure somewhere between $1200 and $1500 from start to finish with a section included. I wasn't risking a problem delivery on this one. So---when her temperature went down, off we went to the doctor. At my regular vet's office I assist in my dog's sections. Here I had to sit in the waiting room. Talk about pacing the floor! I was absolutely sure this wasn't going to work out. I could not believe after all this time there was actually going to be a live Zoe baby. Dr. Reichel came out of surgery with this one pound dark red, black masked lump wrapped in a towel. For some reason I wasn't expecting something that dark. I just stared at it. I was also overwhelmed that there was actually a living puppy. Poor Dr. Reichel though I was disappointed. Actually, I was numb. Nine weeks of constant anxiety were over, or so I thought, and I was drained.

To top everything off, this was a bitch puppy. This was exactly what I wanted.

An hour later Zoe and I went home. Now came the fun part. Zoe was almost 7 years old. How was she going to adapt to a puppy. I soon found out. She went crazy over it. She practically washed the skin off it. I could not leave it with her because she was too fussy. I brought it back an hour later to nurse again and she was calmer. She thought it was very nice. But, when she decided to shift positions in the box, she didn't even look where the puppy was and kicked it clear across the box. That was enough for me. I could not sit in a whelping box every two hours for a half an hour at a time to keep the puppy safe while feeding, so I decided to bottle feed. The puppy like the formula, and Zoe settled down by the next morning and didn't seem to miss her.

After five days, I decided the pup wasn't gaining the way I had hoped. My brindle Maud had a litter of six, 13 days older than this pup. She had enough milk for 10 and adored pups. I thought I would try the pup with her. It was a feisty little devil, like her mom, not inclined to take no for an answer. Maud adored her. Maud's pups were huge, literally three times the size of Zoe's pup. That didn't deter the little one. She would grab a nipple and not let go no matter what. She would burrow her way between and under the big pups and push and shove until she got what she wanted.

I did notice she still was not gaining as fast as I would have liked. One evening when she was 3 weeks her breathing got very short and labored. In the morning the vet x-rayed her but nothing showed really clearly. Her forechest and ribs were not well sprung and he thought she might have a congenital defect. He sent me to an internal medicine specialist, who had exceptionally good x-ray equipment and was a genius in his field. I had originally thought the pup had pneumonia but nothing had shown on the first x-ray. This time it showed clearly that she did. Her chest was not expanding because she could not fully expand her lungs. She was put on chloramphenicol and within 24 hours was normal and back with the other pups. She stayed on medication for a week. At the end of two weeks she went back for a check up. She was totally well. You can add another $300 to the cost of this pup.

Was it worth it? You bet! This baby has her father's structure. Her mother's expression and total joy of life. I can't say she was leash-broken in one lesson. It didn't take that long. I put a lead and collar on her and off we went. Just like her mom, she has no reverse gear.

Zoe's pup was a bonus. I always have been thrilled to own her. Thanks to the wonders of modern technology she carried to term. If your bitch looks in whelp and then stops midway, I suggest progesterone testing. It could mean the difference between having or not having a litter.

SCIENCE AND THE DOG

DOG WORLD, September 1991

CANINE HEART PROBLEMS

The most common signs of canine heart problems are exercise intolerance, shortness of breath and coughing. A problem can be confirmed with a veterinary examination and x-rays, an electrocardiogram or an echocardiography.

A congenital heart defect common in puppies is patent ductus arteriosus, frequently seen in Poodles and Shelties. The connection between the two main arteries exiting the heart does not close, causing a telltale murmur. PDA is surgically correctable and has a 90 percent success rate if caught early.

Treatment for aortic stenosis--anarrowing of the aorta--is still in the experimental stages, but veterinarians are using balloon valvuloplasty, a human heart technique, to treat pulmonic stenosis.

A degenerating or "leaky" valve in the heart of an aging dog can cause the heart to enlarge. Medication can reduce fluid buildup and strengthen heart contractions. Large and giant breeds sometimes have dilated cardiomyopathy, in which the heart muscle can't contract to pump blood. Medicatoin can help control the disease, but most older dogs that develop this live only six months to two years.
